2018 Fattoria SanFelo product-timed-pdf - Balla la Vecchia Maremma Toscana - Madness. $16 Super-Tuscan??!

Why We're Drinking It

"Look how Balla la Vecchia!" is a Maremmano saying that indicates the flickering of the air on days of summer heat. We have to say this is a superb glass of Tuscan Cabernet/Merlot for a "Balla la Vecchia" price, are we right?

Another great find from our Europe deal-scouring team, we direct-imported about 30 cases of this (thus the wonderful price!). The passion for cultivation of the vine and for rural traditions, combined with the desire to actively contribute to the promotion of the land of the Tuscan Maremma, led the Vanni family to realize a dream: the SanFelo Wine Estate with an area of about 50 hectares including 33 hectares of harmonious vineyards. Fattoria SanFelo is located in the heart of the Tuscan Maremma, on the slopes of Mount Amiata, between the hills of Uccellina Park and Costa d'Argento, and is blessed by cool ocean breezes and lush hillside vineyards (man, does this sound great or what?).

Get your piece of the Tuscan coastline in this bottle. Bright red color leads to blue-skinned berry flavors, toasty baking spices and rich Cabernet flavors, with a fresh yet silky texture. Pretty mind-blowing at well over 50% OFF... Grab this while we have it -- an amazing $96 a 6-PACK w/ free ground shipping. While it lasts...!
