

2015 Château Croix-Moutonproduct-pdf - Bordeaux Superieur - $15 BBQ-Loving Bordeaux

Why We're Drinking It

If you haven't jumped on the bandwagon of 2015 Bordeauxs, we suggest you do. Like now. Start with this one, it's only $15. The '15s are exceptional, overdelivering, juicy, luscious, infinitely approachable wines that in no way shape or form will be a bad buy (especially if you get them through us, we vet all the gems and the duds!). $90 a 6-pack with shipping included! You'll be set for summer (unless you're us...we needed 2 cases #sorrynotsorry)!

This 90pt Croix-Mouton is going to be right up your alley. And if you're like us, it'll have you dreaming of warm summer evenings with the grill firing up a Santa Maria style tri-tip. Yes, it's powerful, smoky and ripe, perfect with those char grill flavors we love (in a pinch, you can just use a cast iron too). This has lovely plum, cherry, wild blackberry, star anise and cocoa dust notes with hints of cedar and wood smoke. Ripe tannins and a yummy finish.

2015 Bordeaux Supérieur at $15?! 90pts! Come on now. Hustle on over to the shop and stock up.

The Story to Know

Previously known as Chateau Mouton, Croix Mouton has a storied history in Bordeaux. The estate has a history dating back to the ancient Romans who planted vines on the property!

Chateau Croix Mouton was purchased by Jean-Philippe Janoueix in 1997. When purchased, the estate and vineyards were not in good shape, the previous owner had abandoned the vineyards. Jean Philippe Janoueix wanted to sell the wines under the original name of Chateau Mouton but a lawsuit was filed by Chateau Mouton Rothschild and the name was changed to Croix Mouton. In 1998 improvements on all the facilities and vineyards began taking place.

Ratings

90pts, James Suckling

A fruity and juicy red with currant, cherry and plum character and a hint of cedar and rust. Full to medium body, ripe tannins and a flavorful finish. Drink or hold.
