

2014 Corte Medicea Chianti Riserva product-pdf - DOCG, Tuscany, Italy (12-btl Case) - Another Stellar La Bollina Production

Why We're Drinking It

With 94-96pt ratings across the board, Corte Medicea presents their 2014 Chianti Classico Riserva. An enthralling and elegant Chianti from one of our sourcing teams' favorite producers, the 2014 Riserva highlights all we love about the region and is one of the standout examples of a superb vintage, produced by a superb winery.

- Under their current ownership, production La Bollina production took off in a modernized way in 2011, starting with extensive vineyard and wine cellar renovation.
- Always ones to do their homework from vintage to vintage, modernized techniques allowed them to capitalize on the lower yields and unforeseen challenges of the 2014 vintage through late-season harvest to bring out the best possible quality for their Sangiovese grapes; and the result is a slim, elegant, though bold Chianti.
- The winemaking team works as a collaboration of a few wine professionals with many years worth of combined experience in viticulture and viniculture. The winemakers emphasize their enthusiasm for making wines using a pure and principled approach.
- While 2014 gave many growers fits, La Bollina turned out one of the few monumental bottles of that vintage, perfect for indulging in now or holding onto for a few years, it bares the La Bollina marks of superiority: finesse, elegance, and loads of personality.
