Why We're Drinking It

Sourced from cool-climate sites along the California coastline. Natively fermented and aged in a mix of new and neutral barrels.

Delta, meaning change, was born out of proprietors Alexis & Matt's desire to create a platform to make a difference in the fight to protect the planet. They partner with organizations dedicated to making a positive impact on the environment such as cleaning up the oceans and reducing CO2 emissions. They produce varietal wines blended from vineyards around California including Sonoma, Napa, Mendocino and the Central Coast.

Ratings

"Aromas of dark cherry, spice, fertile earth and mesquite. Mid-weight plus flavors of black cherry, blueberry-pomegranate and cherry cola are embellished with toasty oak in the background. Well-rounded, integrated tannins and texturally appealing with a soft and sleek mouthfeel" - 93 Insider Points
